

In Kindergarten this week... Friday Funny

Smelling mystery smell #5.

Unnamed student says: "MMM This smells like my Grandma's house!"

Mystery Smell# 5: My perfume

Do you hear what I hear?

Mary Sitek: A FULL TIME volunteer at Stella Maris Academy. She gets to know each student personally and truly cares about all of them.

She is the sweetest and sassiest woman you'll ever meet! If you see her, thank her for all she does for our school!

UPDATE: GROUP SOUP HAS BEEN RELOCATED TO THE CHURCH HALL. THERE WASN'T ENOUGH SPACE UPSTAIRS FOR ALL OF US. WE WILL PLAN TO MEET OVER IN THE CHURCH HALL AT 1:30 ON MONDAY, NOVEMBER 26TH.

This week was all about the 5 senses! We did activities to try to test each of our senses by themselves. We reached our hands in bags to identify objects, smelled mystery smells, and put a partition up and I made sounds that the students had to identify. On Friday we used ALL 5 senses as we willingly gobbled up potato chips! In Religion we began our discussion on our Circle of Grace. It made a few students uncomfortable to talk about certain situations where someone would pressure them to disobey their parents. In connection with our transportation unit as well, we made stop lights to relate to our feelings. The kids pointed to the color they felt when I gave scenarios. They all did great. Father Jeremy read the book "The Weight of the Mass." Very good read! Our Math unit is focusing on the numbers 6-10 and easily identifying numbers when they are in a ten frame. Today I sent home a new easy reader-I see November. Have them read it to 5 people, sign your names and bring it back for a prize. Have a great weekend!
